Communities across the country and throughout Virginia are aligning the talent of residents in unique projects and creative spaces that shape identity and create vibrant towns.

What do you have in common with these places and people? What can we learn from each other? What can you get started locally?

Short conversation-starting videos will be released each week, connecting Virginia stories to those in Dar Williams' What I Found in a Thousand Towns. Watch for the first installment:

Tuesday, September 4th, at 6 PM.

Use this video tour of Virginia downtowns in a chapter-by-chapter discussion, or share them individually to advance local strategies.
